

December 22, 2009
 TO: Joyce Raley Teel
 From: Frank Nordby

Subject: Our protest in front of the Raley's Carmichael store

Dear Joyce Raley Teel,

Wasn't that neat about the protest this morning? What I thought was most interesting is your use of another phrase that downplays Raley's crime against our dad Charles Nordby. You said "I really feel sorry for you." Add that to "Charles Nordby was delusional," "There is no truth to Charles Nordby's story," "He was just a good security man," and so forth.

Shame on you for not standing up for your dad's reputation while being visible in the public eye. And that is why I feel so sorry for you. You and your husband are just a cold and unrepentant thieves spending large sums of money to place your fraudulent name on buildings. You don't even have the decency to update your website showing that the year 1943 was the right year your bozo father's first store in Placerville burned down and not 1942 like what is seen today. What arrogance.

Look at how unprofessional you looked standing in the Raley's parking lot stating "I really feel sorry for you." If I was the owner of a $3 billion in yearly sales company and had somebody calling me a crook and a thief in a stores parking lot that had my dad's name on it, I would take that person to court so fast and prove them wrong. But instead Joyce, your big comeback to me when I tell you to take us to court is this "I am not going to take you to court."

You can't Joyce because the slime that has been traveling with you, your dumb-ass husband Jim, Conman Chuck Collings and your "I am an idiot" father over the last five decades isn't going to disappear anytime soon. Do you get my drift? And now your son Michael is following in Jim's and Chuck's footsteps. Joyce, I really feel sorry for your son.

I just found out about the Market Center Corporation. There is so much "shit" going on with questions to it, I think you owe Raley's shoppers and the public an answer to all of these questions. Take us to court Joyce and prove Charles Nordby wrong and prove also that you haven't been just a cancer destroying the lives of honest people over the many years. Prove Nordby wrong and I have $100,000 for you....you crook.

Also, that dumb-ass store director of the Carmichael store who escorted you out to your car (Joyce that was a good show) making the statement that my dad got his day in court. How dare any of you to make that claim. All my dad saw in his court case was fraud running rampant there too. Although my dad shouldn't have seen anything less because that how Raley's dirties up our system.

Yeah Joyce- you came down to the Carmichael store after hearing we were out in front picketing. Why didn't your corrupt husband Jim come along with you? Was he scared? Not you though. You wanted to act so nonchalant and tell us "I feel so sorry for you." That was a good act and must have convinced everybody in the parking lot that you aren't a thief! Sorry Joyce, but I had a person walk past me on the sidewalk and told me he's heard this story and believes everything about it.

You were probably hoping that we would violate some kind of law so you could have us arrested. We have been doing this for 18 years and we aren't going to do anything stupid to get us arrested....you crook!

Joyce, had it been my deceased mother standing in the parking lot instead of me, I would have wanted her to come up to you and slap your fraudulent face for Raley's cheating her husband! A phucking slap you deserve. My mom couldn't have done that. All she could have done was tell you "I feel so sorry for you and your entire family!"

The bottom line Joyce:

Shame on you!

Frank Nordby

